"SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE" by Dalton Key

The Bible places a premium on today. Not tomorrow, of which we are warned not to boast. (Proverbs 27:1.) And not next year, of which we have no certainty. (James 4:13-16.) But today. Now.

"Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." (2 Corinthians 6:2.) "But exhort one another daily, while it is called Today; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin." (Hebrews 3:13.)

Even our Lord, while in the flesh, understood the transient nature of time and thus the urgency of today. He taught, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night comes, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world." (John 9:3,4.)

You have yet to obey the gospel? Follow the example of first-century converts who having heard the gospel, obeyed immediately; even, as in one case, "the same hour of the night." (Acts 16:33.) Don't put off your soul's salvation.

The good you intend to do? Do it now. The kindness you plan one day to extend to those you love? Do it now. The forgiveness you know you ought to offer those who have slighted you, offended you or caused you pain? Do it now.

As Emerson once observed, "You cannot do a kindness too soon, for you never know how soon it will be too late."

Yesterday is past; tomorrow may never come. "Now is the accepted time."

Thank God for “Common People” Dan Jenkins

As our Lord came near to the end of His life, the religious leaders saw that they were losing their place of prominence in the sight of most of the people. The ordinary Jews who heard Him showed how fascinated they were by Jesus. They asked the question, “How does this Man know letters, having never studied” (John 7:15)?

The religious leaders “...heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning Him” and “...sent officers to take Him” (John 7:32). The soldiers returned empty-handed saying, “No man ever spoke like this Man” (John 7:46). The leaders tried to use their influence as religious leaders to persuade men by saying, “Have any of the rulers or the Pharisees believed in Him” (John 7:48)? This had no impact on the multitudes. Those leaders could not deny His power shown in the resurrection of Lazarus and in their frustration, “...the chief priests plotted to put Lazarus to death” (John 12:10).

The very next day, Jerusalem was in an uproar as Jesus made that triumphant entry into the city. He had been totally rejected by the “godly” leaders, yet His popularity was so evident. The leaders confronted Him in the temple, and He dealt with every one of their questions. “And no one was able to answer Him a word, nor from that day on did anyone dare question Him any more” (Matt. 22:46). They had failed! How did the multitude respond? “And the common people heard Him gladly” (Mark 12:37).

“The common people heard Him...” Thank God for “common people,” for the kingdom of God did not attract nobility, but it was built upon the response of “common people” (1 Cor. 1:26; Jas. 2:5). “Common people” loved Jesus. Jesus spent His life dealing with the “common people.” He ate with sinners and publicans; He helped Legion with the demons; He was part of the life of the woman who had seven demons; He touched the lepers; He felt the touch of a poor woman who touched His garments; He spent time with a woman who had had five husbands and was now living with a man outside of any marriage; He ignored the multitude to heal that blind man who was despised by most; He chose a “terrorist” (Zealot) to be an apostle and chose ignorant and unlearned fishermen to proclaim Him to the world. Thank God for “common people.” Jesus spent His life dealing with the “common people.”

The lesson to be learned from this should be obvious. Our world is filled with those religious leaders and their blind followers, but there are still “common people” who are searching for the meaning of life. As we sow the seed we must never overlook the “common people.” If Jesus were here He would definitely see the “common people” as future saints!
